Reds Put New Block On Berlin City Hall

Reporter Tells Story Of Siege From City Hall

BULLETIN
Berlin, Wednesday, Sept. 7—(AP)—Nineteen western zone Berlin policemen were kidnapped by rival Russian-backed police and Soviet Tommy-gunners today as they left the Berlin City Hall under a Russian safe conduct guarantee.

by Richard K. O'Malley
Inside Berlin's blockaded City Hall, Wednesday, Sept. 7—(AP)—Tough hoodlums, who are plainclothes detectives in Berlin's Soviet sector, have turned this city building into a place of siege.

Backed by uniformed Soviet-sector German police, these detectives lounge outside the offices of United States, British and French liaison groups. They are looking for western sector police being harbored in the building.

They have not found them and it is easy to see they are angry. A German policeman in uniform strolled by the door of the American office. From the side of his mouth, he said:

Safer Inside
"I would be safer for you to stay inside and not walk down the hall. Soon will come big action."

He did not explain further. After 36 hours inside this building with food brought in only occasionally, life can become a thing of waiting and wondering.

Occasionally a Russian jeep rolls down the street in front of the building. New correspondents and allies liaison officers inside speculate as to whether they plan another sortie.

A German photographer employed by an American news agency stepped out of the American office.

Asks For Identity Card
Immediately a Soviet-sector plainclothesman with sharp eyes and a tick chin asked to see his identity card. When the German complied the Soviet policeman flung his arms around him and tried to drag him down the corridor.

The German shouted for help and grasped the doorjamb of the American office. The plainclothesman let him go but he still had the identity card. The photographer said:

"This is the end of me for a while. Now I have no papers."

Monday night 19 of the western sector police who had come into the building were arrested by Soviet-controlled men. They were a sad lot as they went out in chains.

Rudolph Wagner, deputy police commander of the Soviet sector, makes frequent trips up and down the corridors. He is flanked by fawning aides. Always there is the feeling that in any minute his police may break down a door and arrest everyone.

A walk down the corridor is a dangerous thing. American and British correspondents in the building never travel alone. It would be too easy for Soviet-sector police to pick them up. The seizures are never arrests in the accepted sense of the word. They are flat kidnappings.

Story Interrupted
This story was interrupted because the same German photographer whose papers were removed was attacked again as he walked down the hall.

Henry Burroughs, an associated press photographer and I played a grim tug of war with a plainclothes Soviet-sector policeman and a uniformed officer. We managed to drag the German photographer into the American liaison room. The plainclothesman, redfaced with anger, said:

"I'll remember this. But I'll not go in there into the American room."

HUSBAND MAKES $1,000
GIVES WIFE 20 CENTS

Chicago, Sept. 7—(P)—Mrs. Shirley Roth, 19, charged today that her husband makes $1,000 a month, but he only gives her 20 cents at a time.

In a separate maintenance suit against Charles F. Roth, Jr., 35, executive of a sales corporation, Mrs. Roth said that the only money she receives from her husband was in payment for laundering his shirts. The current pay rate, she said, is 20 cents a shirt.

VANDERBILT WEDS
Greenwich, Conn., Sept. 7—(P)—Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., 50-year-old journalist and lecturer, and Mrs. Patricia Murphy Wallace, 28, of Los Angeles, Calif., were married here early today.

For Vanderbilt, who gave his address as Reno, Nev., it was his fifth marriage; for Mrs. Vanderbilt, divorced wife of Earl Wallace, Hollywood photographer, her second.

ENGLISH LAD AT SEA, SHOULD BE IN SCHOOL

Hull, England, Sept. 7—(P)—Peter Russell, 13, should have returned to school today after a summer vacation.

Instead he is peeling potatoes for fishermen aboard a trawler 550 miles inside the Arctic Circle.

Peter, anxious to go to sea since he was seven, stowed away recently on the trawler when she left Hull for the Arctic fishing grounds.

Bierut Picked To Head New Red Socialist Party

Warsaw, Sept. 7—(P)—President Boleslaw Bierut was offered broad power today to strengthen the Communist front, merge with the Socialists and liquidate strong nationalistic and individualistic feeling among Poland's 15,000 peasants.

Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz, left-wing Socialist, and Oscar Lange, former Polish ambassador in Washington, headed a delegation which called upon the president at Belvedere palace. They told him he had been picked by the Socialists' executive committee as the No. 1 man to head a proposed new Communist Socialist Workers party. He long has been the choice of his Communists for the united leadership.

Bierut thanked the delegation for a nomination which is tantamount to election. Since the Communists and Socialists hold the key controls in Poland his nomination and acceptance of the prospective Communist activities, exceptionally broad political powers.

The president pushed ahead today plugging the gaps created in the Communist front by Vice-President Wladyslaw Gomulka's support of "rightist and nationalist deviation."

Yesterday, Bierut faced the possibility of having to perform this task without Gomulka's help.

But within the last 24 hours Gomulka did a complete about face. He agreed to go down the line of Communism favored by Moscow and the Cominform.

He said he had committed a "mountain of errors" and expressed regret.

Blame Designers Of Cockpit Dials For Plane Crashes

Boston, Sept. 7—(P)—A new major cause for airplane accidents, discovered by the U. S. Army Air Force, was reported to the American Psychological Association today.

The trouble is cockpit dials too hard for pilots to read. The blame was put on designers of these instruments. The report was made by Walter F. Grether, Aero Medical Laboratory, Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio.

An instrument whose face looks like a clock, with three hands, is the worst offender. It tells a pilot his altitude. Pilots misread this dial more than ten per cent of the time, because it is so difficult.

Worse by far than the mistake of misreading, Grether said, is the fact that they nearly always make the altitude one thousand feet higher than it actually is. This mistake is always one thousand feet, and not a smaller and safer error. It may account for pilots being close to mountains when they think they are safely above. Grether told of a pilot who tried to fly his plane into the ground because he made this thousand foot mistake when close to the ground of an airport.

Women Voters Hold Majority Over Men In U.S. Elections

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 7—(P)—Women voters are expected to outnumber the men by 1,500,000 in the nation's elections this year. U. S. Senator C. Wayne Brooks said today.

"The potential vote in America now is slightly more than 94 million and election experts predict that women voters will outnumber the men by approximately one and a half million," Brooks said.

"The actual vote cast, however, will be much less than that."

In an address prepared for the federation of Illinois Women's Republican clubs, the GOP senator urged them to help get out the vote. Brooks is campaigning for reelection.

BEARS SIGN BAUMAN

Chicago, Sept. 7—(P)—The Chicago Bears today announced the signing of Alf Bauman, former Northwestern University tackle.

Bauman once played with the Chicago Rockets of the All-America Football Conference and also with the Philadelphia Eagles.

Refuse To Permit Allies In Building

Berlin, Sept. 7—(AP)—Communist controlled police clamped a new blockade around the City Hall in the Soviet sector tonight and refused to let Allied personnel into the building.

At the same time they increased their forces inside the building, from which the regularly elected city government was driven by Communist demonstrators yesterday. It was believed they were renewing their efforts to get custody of 27 west German police still cornered in the building.

(President Truman held a 45-minute meeting with the National Security Council at the White House Tuesday. A presidential spokesman said the meeting was in connection with the Berlin situation.)

One of the first victims of the new blockade was William Babcock, deputy U. S. commandant in Berlin. He and Maj. John E. Davidson of Philadelphia, American liaison officer at City Hall, were detained by Russian military police when they attempted to drive to the City Hall.

The police took the two Americans to the Russian Kommandatura and released them a short time later. While at the Kommandatura they asked to see Maj. Gen. Alexander Kotikov, the Russian commandant. This request was refused.

Other western officers were denied entrance to the City hall where the 27 west German police and a small group of westerners have been for the past 36 hours.

Turn Back Britain
The guards turned back Lt. Col. H. P. Whiteford, British liaison officer, when he attempted to reach City Hall. A French major said a police officer instructed door guards, "nobody is to enter this building unless it's over your dead body."

French officers burned confidential papers in the French liaison rooms where the 27 west German police were reported hiding.

The American liaison officers were entered yesterday and 19 west German police removed.

The west German police had been sent to the building to guard the regular city government.

Two American correspondents and two French couriers also were turned back from trying to take food to the tiny western "garrison" in the City Hall. The German driver for the couriers was manhandled and arrested.

Correspondents Could Leave
Correspondents in the building could leave if they wished, but were not allowed to return.

Earlier, the four military government officers of Germany went into a "deadline" conference in efforts to settle the 76-day crisis.

The meeting ended at 8 p.m., with no indication of its progress. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American military governor, said there would be another meeting but that no date was set.

Clay said the three western governors had not discussed with Soviet Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky yesterday's Communist-led disorders at City Hall. The three western governors previously had met to consider making protests to Sokolovsky.

Army Answers West Coast Dock Workers Strike

Washington, Sept. 7—(P)—An army spokesman said today it will be necessary to use military personnel to handle essential army cargo for overseas areas if an agreement is not reached with striking west coast longshoremen.

A showdown between the army and longshoremen union officials on the loading of military cargoes appeared likely today at San Francisco.

The spokesman told a reporter that the army's principal interest in the west coast strike is to get its own supplies loaded for Pacific overseas zones. He added that no signed commercial cargo would be handled by military groups if their use became necessary.

GOVERNMENT CANNOT CUT NATIONAL DEBT

Washington, Sept. 7—(P)—Secretary of the Treasury Snyder said today the government will not be able to reduce the $253,000,000,000 national debt during the next ten months.

Snyder made the statement to a group of farm leaders in launching a move to get farmers to increase their purchases of savings bonds.

Snyder named an 18-man national savings bonds committee to advise the treasury on the sale of bonds to farmers.

Progressives Will Appear On Cook County's Ballot

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 7—(P)—Progressive party nominees for some county, state legislature, and congressional races in Cook county (Chicago) appear sure to be on the county's Nov. 2 general election ballot.

This seemed assured today by action of the Illinois Supreme Court and a statement by the chief clerk of the county election department.

But, as in the state's other 101 counties, the Wallace-Taylor national ticket, and the Progressive nominees for U. S. senator, and for governor and other state offices decided by statewide voting, will not be on the ballot.

The state electoral board recently barred the state and national tickets throughout the state. Progressives say they plan to appeal the decision to the state supreme court, but there is a question whether an appeal can be made.

Today's developments seem likely to put on the Cook county ballot the new party's four candidates for Congress from Chicago area districts, 12 for the Illinois House, and a slate for county offices and municipal court seats.

The special grand jury investigation grew out of charges by friends of the late gangster, Bernie Shelton, that an emissary of Hull had attempted to make a deal to drop an assault indictment against Shelton for a payment of $25,000. Shelton was slain from ambush July 26.

Barrett replied on Aug. 31 to an earlier appeal by the association for a state investigator of alleged gambling and crime-politics alliances. His letter said he believed action by the state unnecessary because "Judge Ingram was expanded and enlarged" the investigating powers of Verle W. Safford, special prosecutor in charge of inquiring into bribe solicitation charges against Hull.

The letter added Barrett had heard that Judge Ingram had "broadened the scope of the investigation by the grand jury to include all of the matters you desire to have investigated."

The association's second letter to Barrett said in part: "You are clearly mistaken in your statement that the circuit judge enlarged Mr. Safford's investigatory powers and broadened the scope of the grand jury."

"We are sure you will agree that a circuit judge has now power to change the law concerning the authority of the grand jury or the scope of a special prosecutor's activity."

"On August 17, the judge ordered that the grand jury return Friday, Aug. 20. On this latter day, the judge filed a written order which states that a special prosecutor should be appointed to specially investigate the bribery charges alleged against the state's attorney, and that Verle W. Safford is hereby appointed special prosecutor to investigate any and all bribery charges against the petitioner, Roy P. Hull, state's attorney."

"And that 'said special prosecutor should primarily confine his investigation to the bribery charges against the states attorney, Roy P. Hull, aforesaid, and this order shall in no way deprive the people of the county of Peoria of the services of the regularly appointed state's attorney in the investigation and prosecution of all other crimes committed in this county.'"

The former Minnesota governor addressed a Republican rally one day after Mr. Truman had officially launched his campaign for the presidency with a one-day series of speeches in industrial Michigan and Ohio.

"Truman Lacks Leadership"
Stassen, in his prepared address, declared Mr. Truman came not to praise labor for its record, but "as a complaining candidate for election seeking labor's vote."

"His scolding, threatening, complaining speeches" were themselves indications that he lacks the leadership "in affairs at home and abroad so vitally needed in these next crucial years," the GOP speaker asserted.

Mr. Truman's Detroit address "silhouetted the reasons why this administration has failed in these critical postwar years," he said.

"He failed when he had a Democratic congress to work with."

"He failed when he had a Republican congress to work with."

"It is high time to elect a president who can work successfully with others as an American team."

"His complaints remind one of the out-of-step marcher who protests that he is not out of step; all of the rest of the marchers are out of step with him."

Call For GOP Leaders
Stassen, whose appearance here was planned in talks with the Republican presidential candidate, Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, called for election of a Republican administration "carried on in keeping with the sound principles of a truly liberal philosophy."

The speaker pictured the President making "a transparent attempt to create disunity and to benefit politically by deceiving labor" before an audience "built up with labor boss threats of a $3 fine for non attendance."

Truman Speaks To Labor
Mr. Truman spoke before a Labor Day rally sponsored jointly by the AFL and CIO which was attended by an estimated 100,000 to 120,000 persons.

"Labor will not be the tail on the political kite of any one candidate or any one party," Stassen said.

He declared that Mr. Truman "began to make a record of failure at home and abroad" when he had a majority of 15 in the Senate and 51 in the House.

He went to Potsdam for the conference of allied victors "without taking with him a single representative of our Republican party even though the bipartisan foreign policy had been well established," Stassen said.

Committee Set Up To Allot Oil In Strikebound Areas

Washington, Sept. 7—(P)—The oil industry today set up a voluntary allocation committee to meet the petroleum crisis developing on the west coast as the result of a refinery strike.

The committee will make recommendations to the industry and the federal government for the allocation of petroleum in the strike-bound area. It was established by the National Petroleum Council, industry advisory group to the Interior department.

Similar regional committees already have been established for the northeastern and midwestern states and for the Texas-Louisiana-Oklahoma producing area. They were set up under a plan approved by Secretary of the Interior Krug and Attorney General Clark to avoid shortages of heating oil next winter.

WEATHER

The Norbury Sanatorium, cooperative observer for the U.S. Weather Bureau yesterday reported the temperatures for Tuesday as follows: high, 88; low, 64; and at 7 p.m. 80.

Forecasts for Illinois—Partly cloudy North mostly cloudy South with occasional showers and scattered thunderstorms Southwest and extreme Southwest portion Wednesday, Cooper Wednesday.

Ask Attorney General Barrett To Intervene In Peoria Probe

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 7—(P)—Directors of the Peoria Association of Commerce today asked Attorney General George F. Barrett to reconsider his refusal to intervene in Peoria county affairs.

Three county officials were indicted last week by a grand jury on charges of omissions of duty and malfeasance in office.

The three indicted, who are to be arraigned tomorrow morning before Circuit Judge Henry J. Ingram, are State's Attorney Roy P. Hull, his chief investigator, Charles Omogly, and Sheriff Earl P. Spanhower.

In addition, Hull was indicted on a charge of attempted bribery and Spanhower was charged in another indictment with perjury.

The special grand jury investigation grew out of charges by friends of the late gangster, Bernie Shelton, that an emissary of Hull had attempted to make a deal to drop an assault indictment against Shelton for a payment of $25,000. Shelton was slain from ambush July 26.

43 States Will Be Affected By Telephone Strike

Chicago, Sept. 7—(P)—A CIO strike that union leaders said would cripple the nation's telephone service was called today for Sept. 17.

The Association of Communication Equipment Workers, installers of phone equipment, announced its 25,000 members would walk out of 2,200 Bell Telephone Company locations in 43 states on that date.

Dan Harris, Portland, Ore., vice president of the ACEW, said the five states that would be unaffected by the walkout are Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts and Montana.

The ACEW is part of the telephone workers organizing committee. In Washington, committee sources said the strike could lead to a nationwide stoppage of telephone service if other phone workers cooperated.

A CIO official said it is likely other telephone workers will refuse to cross ACEW picket lines at the telephone exchanges where the installers work.

In past telephone strikes the automatic dial systems have continued operating on local dial calls.

MITCHUM INDICTED
By Grand Jury On Narcotics Charge

Los Angeles, Sept. 7—(P)—Movie actor Robert Mitchum and actress Lila Leeds with two other persons were indicted by the Los Angeles county grand jury today on charges of possessing marijuana and criminal conspiracy.

Also indicted were Vickie Evans, 25-year-old dancer, and Robin Ford, 31, real estate agent.

Mitchum, 31, Miss Leeds, 20, and the others were arrested last Wednesday by police and federal narcotics officers in a raid on a secluded cottage and were booked on suspicion of violating narcotics laws.

They were released on $1,000 bond each pending a hearing tomorrow on petitions for writs of habeas corpus.

The indictments followed a two-hour session of the grand jury at which three police officers testified. They were Capt. Glenn White, head of the police narcotics squad; Lieut. A. A. Barr, his assistant who led the raid, and Jay Allen, police chemist.

There was no indication, however, of just what ground was covered or what decisions, if any, were reached. The only statement was this from press secretary Eben Ayers:

"This was a special meeting in connection with the Berlin situation."

And he said there wouldn't be anything more.

The council, composed of the government's top men in diplomacy and the armed forces, normally meets only once every two weeks. It takes top-shelf business to get the group together off schedule.

Chicago Doctors Use Surgery To Cure 'Blue Babies'

Chicago, Sept. 7—(P)—A girl from Indiana and another from Michigan were brought to Chicago today to determine if surgery might correct their "blue baby" condition.

They are Judy Campbell, 34 months old, La Grange, Ind., and Barbara Kay Miller, three, of Kalamazoo, Mich. They are suffering from a condition which prevents sufficient oxygen from reaching the blood, giving the skin a bluish tinge.

The children were taken to Children's Memorial hospital where scores of blue baby cases have been corrected by surgery. If physicians find the girls can be treated by surgery and are in proper physical condition for an operation, they will be kept at the hospital.

CABBIE GETS 6 MONTHS FOR BEATING EX-WIFE

Chicago, Sept. 7—(P)—Robert Babian, 40, a cab driver, got a six-month jail sentence today for beating his former wife.

Superior Judge Joseph Sabath ruled Babian was in contempt of court. A restraining order had been issued against Babian when he and his wife were divorced in December.

Mrs. Helen Babian, 36, complained that after they had sold a nine apartment building for $32,000 which they were to divide as part of the divorce settlement, her ex-husband blacked both of her eyes and then kicked her.

"SUCH POPULARITY MUST BE DESERVED"

What is America's favorite greenback as measured by the dollar amount outstanding?

No, it's not the smallest denominations, ones or fives, or even tens. Top ranking is held by the $20 bill, according to Federal Reserve Board figures on money in circulation.

Before the war the $10 bill was usually in first place with the $20 bill second, but since 1942 the positions have been reversed. At the end of March this year there was a total of 8 1/2 billions in $20 bills in circulation as compared with 6 billions in $10 bills.

As a matter of fact, the $1 and $5 bills are near the bottom in standing. Third place is held by the $100 bill with just under 5 billions in circulation at the end of March, and the fourth position is occupied by the $50 bill with nearly 2 1/2 billions outstanding. Both have improved their ranking since prewar.

Before the war the $5 bill was regularly in third place but it has fallen to fifth in the last three years. The $1 bill is in sixth place. Seventh and eighth positions are occupied by the $1,000 and $500 bills, respectively, with nearly twice the dollar amount of $1,000 bills in circulation as the $500 bills.

One of the byproducts of the boom in economic activity during the war was the very great increase in the people's holdings of cash. Money in circulation rose nearly fourfold between 1939 and the end of 1946 when a peak of just under 29 billion dollars was set. This rise was considerably more than the gain in the nation's economic activity, as measured by gross national product, which at its current peak is about 2 1/2 times greater than 1939. Since the end of 1946 money in circulation has declined more than a billion dollars, virtually all of it in the denominations of $20 and under.

Place In Boat Races

Although Jacksonville drivers failed to cop any firsts in outboard races staged by the Jacksonville Boat Club at Lake Mauwaister Sunday afternoon, they did manage to capture more than their share of the laurels.

Bob Linebaugh and Bill Ricks each grabbed seconds during the afternoon-long program. Linebaugh came through in that position in the second heat of the Class B competition, after placing third in the first heat. Ricks was second in the first heat of the Class C racing.

Jerry Vasconcellos and Jim Adams finished fourth and fifth in both heats of the Class A division. Linebaugh came across the line in fifth place in both heats of the Class C racing. Ellis Willoughby of Alexander, racing with the Springfield Boat club, was third in heat one and second in heat two of the Class C competition.

Big Crowd on Shore
A large crowd gathered on the lake banks to witness the second racing event of the season. Rain dampened the proceedings about mid-way through the card, but the fans stayed on until a heavy shower halted competition just before the final heat of the last event, the free for all.

New Season Begun By Woman's Club At New Berlin
New Berlin—The New Berlin Woman's club opened its new season with a meeting at the First Baptist church. The new president, Mrs. William Brehm, presided.

The meeting opened with the pledge to the flag, followed by the club collect, read by Mrs. J. J. Short. Mrs. Genelle McCullough, Mrs. May Lawrence, Mrs. Margaret Chapman, Mrs. Isabel Pfeffer and Mrs. Rose Mary Perry were accepted as new members.

Mrs. Lucille Perry, chairman of the American Home committee, had charge of the program. Several 4-H club girls, under the leadership of Miss Mary Margaret Wax, presented demonstrations. A medley of Stephen Foster music comprised the musical portion of the program.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. George Bergschneider, Mrs. E. A. Washburn, Mrs. Harold Zude and Miss Bessie Maxwell.

About $100 was missing from the restaurant, which is operated by Everett Lowder.

Teachers Training Conferences Will Begin Wednesday

On Wednesday evening at 7:30 the first of a series of teacher training conferences will be held at the State Street church. The Rev. Lewis N. Raymond, minister of the church, will lead the discussions and all new materials attached to the new curriculum will be exhibited and explained.

State Street church along with many other churches of the denomination, has elected to bring to its church school the best of materials and knowledge. Beginning October 3rd, the entry school with the exception of the adult department will drop its use of the quarterly and in its place there will be a well-bound volume of suitable subject matter, a magazine meant just for the parent and a teacher's workbook. These in the hands of the church groups, students, home teachers will make up the new program. All these supplies will be given the students and parents on Rally Day which is Sept. 26, but only to those who attend the teacher-parent conference on Wednesday, Sept. 22.

The church suggests that the program known as Christian Faith and Life depends as much upon the home as it does upon the church. Therefore, parents are a vital part of the entire new setup.

All teachers in the church school, except those who lead the adult classes, are asked to be out for this important meeting on Wednesday night at 7:30 at the church.

taking the strain off America's tired pocketbooks

There's an old familiar expression that folks have learned to depend upon—
"Here's your change, ma'am."

Sixty-two years ago a fledgling merchant founded a great distribution system on that expression. Richard W. Sears said, "Here's your change" when he closed his first transaction, the sale of a husky pocket watch with a cheerful "tick." It was "Here's your change" that opened a new frontier in selling to America... selling at prices that take the strain off tired pocketbooks.

All Dick Sears had when he founded this business, back in 1886, was a few watches—and the IDEA. He figured that if somehow he could cut out wastes in distribution, he could sell merchandise of GOOD QUALITY, and hand folks some change from their dollar to boot.

That's what America has grown to expect of Sears. That's what people mean today when they say "GOOD QUALITY COSTS LESS AT SEARS."

What makes good quality cost less is no secret. We know that keeping down the cost of manufacture and distribution means lower prices to the consumer—to you.

We know that the way to reduce costs without hurting anyone's paycheck is through MASS PRODUCTION of good quality merchandise. And that to keep costs low, this merchandise must be MASS DISTRIBUTED—straight-line distribution, we call it—economically, wasteless—to you.

And so tomorrow we present dramatic proof that this economic principle is an actual fact. Why not see for yourself? Shop during the nine exciting days of Sears 62nd Anniversary Sale, a storewide presentation, timed to be the glorious opening to another year of TAKING THE STRAIN OFF AMERICA'S TIRED POCKETBOOKS.

Fake Claims For Jobless Benefits Cheat All Workers

Every fraudulent claim for unemployment compensation is a fraud against every covered worker in the State, and a drain on every worker's unemployment reserves, Deputy Tattersall in charge at the Jacksonville unemployment compensation office warned Tuesday. Every worker should therefore, be alert to prevent frauds that rob his own Unemployment Compensation Trust Fund.

"Every insured worker in Illinois has a direct personal interest in the Illinois Unemployment Compensation Fund," Tattersall pointed out. This fund belongs to the covered workers of the state and can be used for no other purpose than the payment of unemployment benefits. Not one cent of this money can be used for salaries or other administrative costs, which are paid out of funds received from the federal government.

Stop Frauds Now

"Otherwise honest workers often condone fraudulent claims by taking no action about them. If such workers will reflect that the trust fund from which benefits are fraudulently claimed and accepted today, is the same trust fund set aside to provide for their own possible unemployment needs tomorrow, that the money stolen from the fund is their own protection against a rainy day, they will be less apt to look the other way and to condone by their silence the theft of their own money."

"Unemployment compensation was originally sponsored by Labor for Labor. Deadbeats and chiselers in labor's own ranks can wreck the unemployment insurance program by fraudulent collection of jobless benefits. To protect their own interests, therefore, honest workers should be vigilant to prevent fake claims at every opportunity."

"Illinois law provides severe penalties for willful fraud in unemployment compensation claims," the deputy observed. "Our courts take a strict view of such frauds and impose heavy fines and imprisonment where deliberate fraud is shown. Fines up to $200 and imprisonment for up to six months may be imposed for each offense. Even in cases of innocent error where no deliberate fraud is intended, full restitution or recoupment is insisted upon."

CORN IN A Quonset***

IS EXTRA MONEY IN THE BANK

Storing your corn in a Quonset... on your own farm... to sell at the right time—that, indeed, means extra money in the bank, because your corn will bring in extra profits.

You will save a lot by cutting storage and hauling costs. You will save a lot more by holding your corn until you can sell to your best advantage.

Look at the arithmetic. A low-cost Quonset 32 (32 by 36 feet), erected and equipped with ventilating tunnels and fans, holds up to 5,000 bushels of unshelled corn. Over the many years that the permanent all-steel Quonset will serve you, your corn storage costs per season become almost negligible.

Inspect a Quonset farm building in your neighborhood—see how readily it can be adapted to grain storage use, how valuable it will be for other farm uses between storage seasons.

Call us today—make sure of having your Quonset in time. It's here, for immediate delivery and quick erection.

Car Wrecks Result In Injuries For Several
A series of automobile accidents in which at least four persons were injured occurred on highways in the Jacksonville area during the Labor Day week and holiday. The more heavily traveled federal highways produced their usual quota of mishaps, while even the secondary roads came up with twisted automobiles and injured drivers.
No fatalities resulted from accidents in the Jacksonville community.
A 1946 Lincoln car owned by G. W. Jennings, Jr., of Greenfield was wrecked in an accident east of Murrayville early Sunday morning. The crash occurred at the intersection of the gravel road east of Murrayville and the new Greenfield paved highway.
Taken To Hospital
James Nash and John Hall sustained cuts and bruises but were not seriously hurt. They were brought to Passavant hospital for emergency treatment, after which they were taken to their homes. The car was towed to the Lukeman garage here.
Nine stitches were taken to close the wounds on Nash's head and face.
Morgan county authorities said they were informed that Nash and Hall had borrowed Jennings' car, and that Jennings was not with them on the trip at the time of the accident.
Deputy Sheriff John Irlam went to the scene of the accident and rendered assistance.
Cletus Arnold, 1820 South Main street, was cut and bruised early Sunday morning when his Chevrolet car left the pavement two miles south of the Sandy creek bridge, on U. S. Route 67. Deputies Howard Means and Arthur Roach were cruising in a county patrol car and hurried to this wreck.
Wreck Near New Berlin
A Pittsfield driver enroute home from Springfield lost control of his car and turned over near New Berlin. One person was reported slightly injured. State patrolmen took charge of the accident area until the car was righted and towed away.

THE STORY: Hilary Shenstone, British secret agent, recalls lying wounded in the Indian desert beside a crashed plane. After completing a dangerous mission, he remembers feeling a desperate need to return to England and Nuns Farthing, his family's country home. Next thing Hilary is aware of, he is back in London dropping in at his club. But no one seems conscious of his presence. Hilary learns that his brother, George, has been cutting in with Alice, Hilary's fiancée. He thinks it's all a dream until he overhears a report of his own death. Shocked at first, Hilary later decides to enjoy the situation. Next day he visits his mother's country house. George and his mother are awaiting Hilary for lunch. They are aware of his presence. Hilary hears his mother encourage George to win Alice away from him. Hilary is told much like his father to make a woman happy. She begins to cry and leaves the room when Alice comes in.

HILARY put down his impulse to escape from the room. Alice stood looking after his mother—slim and straight and fair and desirable, her pale gold hair gleaming in sculptured curls round her halo hat. If he had come home on leave this summer, and found her looking like this, surely he would have had the good sense to urge a date for their wedding. And what would she have said to that—now that George had come into it? He had to know.

George had dumped the ice into the White Lady hastily and was now performing tunes with the shaker. "What upset her?" Alice was asking. "I thought perhaps she was worrying about Hilary again." "No," said George, and began to pour out into the little stemmed glasses with great care. "Are you?"

"Well, I'm afraid I haven't been writing much either," she acknowledged, "so Hilary doesn't really deserve to hear. One loses touch." She accepted her glass from him and raised it, with a little provocative smile. "Cheerio," she said, and drank. "Bung-ho," said George, and took his at a gulp.

"Happy landings," murmured Hilary, watching them. "Alice—" George set down his glass with a clink. "—how much longer are you going to let things go on like this?"

"What?" She raised startled blue eyes to his darkening gaze. "How much longer are you going to let me dangle?" "George, you're not to talk like that. I won't listen!" "YOU have to listen. I'm sick of hanging about on one foot waiting for Hilary to make up his mind to marry you!" cried George angrily. "After all—where do I come in?" "George, Hilary's never asked me to promise anything—actually. But if I choose to consider myself pledged—" "Pledged to what?" he jeered rudely. "To marry him if and when he asks you to set a date?" Alice drifted down the room, avoiding chairs and tables blindly, her hands pressed together. "Are you really in love with him?" demanded George, coming after her, so that she turned to face him, at bay against the grand piano.

"Are you, Alice?" insisted Hilary softly. "I was," she hesitated. "I could have been. I'm not going to let him down now."

"And what about me?" George asked with sudden humility. "You?" She tried to laugh it off. "You'll be all right! You've heaps of friends. But Hilary's all alone. He needs me."

"So what's how it is," said Hilary, and he had never thought of it quite that way before. "But—you'd rather it was me?" George persisted hopefully.

well, anyway, I don't need a ticket. A train for Wells was leaving in 10 minutes. Smiling, he slid past the man at the barrier and went down the platform where doors stood open all along the train. He chose a first-class non-smoking compartment as being likeliest to remain empty, and settled himself in the near corner seat with his back to the engine.

For something over two hours he traveled across the June countryside. No one disturbed him. When the train slowed to a stop at the little station of Upper Bramble, near Wells, he pulled himself together, seized the latch, and jumped out as the door swung open under his hand. A bored, unseeing country porter slammed it shut again.

YELLOW sunset light still touched the tops of the trees at the end of the long midsummer day, but the hedged lane grew dusky as he walked the two miles to Nuns Farthing.

Only a short way from the gates he met a farmer with a dog at his heels, trudging towards the pub at Upper Bramble. As they came level the dog shied into the ditch and stood there, stiff-legged, growling in its throat, while the hair on its back rose.

"What's the matter wi' ye, Nab—seem' things?" grinned its master, and the dog hurried after him, still growling, into the dusk.

Hilary had to admit to himself that he was shaken by the encounter. It was a new and humiliating sensation to him to be barked at by a dog as though he was a tramp—only worse.

It was nearly dark when he reached the house, and lights showed in some of the windows. His footsteps quickened at the sight of it. He had come home. Nuns Farthing, at least, was still the same, and there was comfort in it, there would be privacy and

"We won't go into that now." "Yes, we will!" He bent to look into her averted face. "You'd rather it was me—wouldn't you?" "All right—" she sighed. "Suppose I would rather it was you. What then?"

"This," said George thickly, and kissed her hard. "George—please—" But as she straightened against his encircling arms, she felt them tighten possessively. He kissed her again, roughly, compellingly, holding her crushed against him till resistance went out of her and her mouth was willing against his.

WELL, well, thought Hilary, enlightened as he turned away towards the door—she never kissed me that way.

But as he reached the threshold, his mother was coming along the passage hurriedly, a crumpled paper in her hand.

"George!" Mrs. Shenstone called sharply as she came. "Alice—George—where are you—" She stood in the doorway, her eyes blind with tears, her lips tremble.

"What is it, mother?" George went to her quickly. "It's Hilary—I've had a telegram—"

"What about him, mother?" "No—oh, no—" cried Alice, looking frightened.

"He's dead." She collapsed into sobbing, and they led her to a chair near the table. George poured out a cocktail and held the glass firmly while she sipped at it and was calmer. Alice slid to her knees beside Mrs. Shenstone's chair and stayed there, staring straight ahead of her with wide, dry eyes.

A moment more Hilary lingered in the doorway, looking back at them. "It was a shock," his mother was saying apologetically. "I—I never meant to break down like that, I—" Her eyes were fixed on George's stupefied face. "What is it, George? Why do you look so—queer? George, what are you thinking?"

"Nothing," he said, looking very queer indeed. "Nothing, only—it was Hilary's room old Ponsonby had last night at the club."

solace within his own four walls. Books. He could still read books. And no one would care what he did in his own room at the top of the house, there would be no one to see.

ONCE more he was confronted with the problem of a closed door, for the evening was cool. There must be a way to pass through a door without opening it, he told himself, but I'm hanged if I see my way to try it now.

He walked round the house to the back, noticing with approval that the garden was well-kept and flourishing. A mounting excitement had begun to possess him, as though some tremendous experience was drawing nearer with every step he took.

It's coming, he thought, trying not to hurry foolishly, for surely there was no need for him to hurry ever again? Whatever it is, it's going to happen now. I was wasting time in Town—not that time matters after all. But this is it. This is what I've been headed for. I might have known it was here, all along. It's coming now—whatever it is.

Through the open kitchen window he could see Mrs. Pilton, sitting as she used to do, with her knitting. For a moment he paused to contemplate the dark, brooding face bent above her knitting, while a grateful feeling of companionship crept through his loneliness and his driving anxiety. This strange, uncommunicative woman, a native of the grim countryside, was part of his childhood. Undemonstrative, inarticulate, indestructible, their strange friendship stretched back the whole length of his memory, and never once had she let him down.

Hardly knowing what he expected, he went to the kitchen door and tried the handle. It was locked for the night. He knocked on the panels softly—and heard her moving to let him in, watched the door open before him into the lighted room. She stood there, tall and calm and unfrightened, while he crossed the threshold into the kitchen.

"So you've come back at last," she said quietly.

At Melgard, recognized as the nation's greatest organist, was on hand to provide the important background music. Melgard plays the world's largest organ in Chicago Stadium, has performed at Democratic and Republican national conventions for years, is the instructor of many of the most popular organists and is a leading composer.

The famous Wallenda family, for 15 years a feature of Ringling Bros. Barnum and Bailey, held the spotlight throughout the performance. Although their high wire act, completed without the aid of a safety net, provided a perfect climax, they pleased in other appearances. Rita Wallenda succeeded in completely chilling onlookers with her antics atop a 135-foot swaying pole. The Wallenda family, as a unit, also gave an excellent display on unsupported ladders. Dividing into smaller groups, the famous family, recognized as the nation's premier exhibitionists, provided many of the other acts which kept the show moving at a fast clip.

But the show was by no means a Wallenda family proposition. Malcolm evidently went overboard on entertainment in his efforts to give Jacksonville a good performance. Animal acts, featuring dogs and an elephant, as well as other family acts were included in the 24 displays.

The show leaned heavily toward

Councilmen Up Early
To Pass Resolution

Members of the Jacksonville city council were unanimous on one subject Tuesday—they did not care for early morning meetings.

Before stores or offices opened, before many other persons were stirring about, the councilmen put in an appearance at the city hall. The clock showed it was 7:30 a. m. (that's only 6:30 if you figure by standard time).

Despite the early hour the aldermen had business to transact—not as a city council, but as a road district commission.

Once each year the councilmen roll out early to go into session for the purpose of transacting business of Road District 14, which is constituted of the city proper.

At Tuesday's meeting they passed a resolution and certificate of levy for $22,000, to be used by the district for road and bridge purposes. The certificate was filed with the county clerk, this being the final day for that action under the law.

That was about all there was to it! The session lasted scarcely 15 minutes.

Mayor Hoagland and all aldermen were in attendance with exception of Alderman Flynn.

The early morning road district session has been the rule for several years. Council members are then free to go about their duties, several aldermen being out of the city in connection with their regular employment.

Grace Church To Hold Mid-Week
Bible Classes

A new venture is to be started in the field of Religious Education in the Grace church beginning Wednesday afternoon, October 4, from 4:15 to 5:00 o'clock, and every Wednesday thereafter through the middle of May. The general theme of the school is "The Story of the Bible" and classes will be held for boys and girls from 4 to 14 and are open to all children in the community. A special staff of teachers has been secured.

The minister is the general superintendent of the school and he will conduct a class for parents in "Child Guidance." New methods and techniques in Religious Education will be used. In view of the fact that Religious Education cannot be taught in the public schools on public school time, the minister of the church extends a cordial invitation to the parents to interest their children in the school.

In addition to the Bible School every Wednesday afternoon, the Junior Church meets every Sunday morning, beginning October 3, which further emphasizes the work of the school, and will be under the direction of Miss Edwina Johnston.

New York Stock Market

New York, Sept. 7.—(P)—Steels and motors led the stock market higher today after an uncertain start.

A brisk opening almost immediately turned into dullness with the slight plus signs all flip-flopping one by one to the minus side. Volume fell with prices.

But vigor came back to the list when U. S. Steel and Chrysler took over the lead in those two groups and edged higher. The movement spread to other sections on an expanding volume which ran comfortably ahead of Friday.

Rails were unevenly steady. Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio went higher, but on the downside was Chesapeake & Ohio. Motors also were mixed with Chrysler up and Studebaker down.

The bond market appeared higher with the development of a selective demand for railroad loans.

Receipts were: wheat 38 cars, corn 375, oats 64 and soybeans 21.

Top Doubleheader Set For Park Tonight

Giants Sweep Two From Phillies; Pirates Top Cards

Philadelphia, Sept. 7.—(P)—Heavy stick work on the part of Sid Gordon brightened the pennant outlook of the New York Giants today as they swept a doubleheader from the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-1 and 8-6 in 11 innings.

Gordon drove in three runs and collected a pair of doubles in the opening game triumph and then broke up the nightcap by socking his 30th homer of the season with a mate aboard in the 11th inning.

The double win moved the fifth place Giants to within 5½ games of the league leading Boston Braves in the tight national play race. The Giants only trail second place Brooklyn by 1½ games. Pittsburgh and St. Louis, who meet tonight, are in a virtual tie for third, a game ahead of the Giants.

At the same time the Phils dropped from sixth to last place. The idle Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati Reds both moved up a peg.

Andy "Swede" Hansen went the distance for the Giants in the opener. Hansen yielded 10 hits but coasted all the way as the Giants sewed up the tilt in the second inning with a four run rally.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 7.—(P)—The ancient pitching arm of Fritz Ostermueller carried Pittsburgh into second place by a fraction of a percentage point tonight as the Pirates defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 6 to 2 before 36,136 cheering fans. Stan Musial lined into a triple play in the first inning—the second three-pley killing the Bucs have made this year. Don Lang homered in the ninth with Musial aboard to account for the only Card runs. The win gave the Pirates the sweep of the three game series.

The Jacksonville Moose kept their record in the Jacksonville Recreation club A League unblemished Tuesday night as they defeated the Elks club in a 6-1 contest at Nichols Park diamond.

The Jacksonville Merchants won a forfeit contest in the AA league when Myers Bros failed to appear. They then dropped a 7-1 exhibition contest to the Moose nine in five innings.

Joe Tappscott turned in a fourhit mound job for the winning Moose in the opener. He returned to the hill to shut off the Merchants with three blows in the nightcap.

Coach Kraushaar Says Squad Stronger Than Last Year's Outfit

Coach Bob Kraushaar of Jacksonville high school, directing his 1948 Crimsons in one of their final hard scrimmages prior to their opener at Pittsfield Friday night, Tuesday set at one guard, with several other evening went out on the proverbial limb to say that "we look tougher than last season."

To one not well acquainted with the football situation at J.H.S. Kraushaar's forecast would hardly seem momentous—the 1947 version won only twice in nine starts, tying another time. But to the band of loyal followers his words sound good. Frankly, J.H.S. rooters have long been predicting a bad time for the Crimsons this season.

The general attitude of the team and the coaching staff seems to be that football fans are in for a surprise. Spirit is running high in the J.H.S. camp as Kraushaar and his two able helpers, Hal Wimberly and Farrell Patterson, both holdovers from last year, complete final preparations for the nine-game campaign.

There's no denying that 1948 will be a building year at Jacksonville high school. The roster is dotted with the names of a galaxy of underclassmen. But the feeling is running high that there will be more wins than expected.

Kraushaar, starting his fifth year as head grid coach and his sixth season on the J.H.S. staff, isn't looking through rose colored glasses, however. He knows the schedule is tough—there are no breakers.

Pittsfield Tough
Jacksonville's opening opponent may well be one of the strongest the Crimsons will face this year. Pittsfield is loaded with lettermen and promises to field a strong aggregation. Coach Glen Smith, as usual, isn't shouting from the rooftops about his eleven, but through most of the Illinois Valley conference territory there seems to exist the opinion that the Saukees will again be near the top. And after Pittsfield comes a string of eight other good outfits, with only one open week appearing on the schedule.

Already the Kraushaars have suffered a loss. Don Smith, junior half back, suffered a muscle injury in a recent practice session. He'll be on the sidelines for about half the season, maybe longer.

Condition Is Good
Otherwise, the local gridders are in fine shape. A squad of approximately 50 has been working out regularly since August 25.

Coach Kraushaar was highly encouraged about the showing of his candidates until Monday morning, when he reported, they "looked awful." However, the players showed more polish Tuesday afternoon as they went through their rehearsal.

Looking over his roster sheet, Kraushaar pointed out why he feels the way he does about the coming season. One end, Richard Gotschall, saw considerable service last year. Fred Lawson has indicated that he'll be able to take care of the other flank, which will relieve veteran Gene Todd for backfield duty.

The majority of the J.H.S. substitutions will come from the ranks of the underclassmen. The high school coaches have so many promising freshman and sophomores that they're itching to see how they'll stand up in action. Looking a bit farther into the future, it seems safe to say that great things can be expected at J.H.S. in the next three years.

Here's the 1948 schedule:
Sept. 10—At Pittsfield
Sept. 17—Winchester
Sept. 24—Quincy
Oct. 1—At Beardstown (Conf.)
Oct. 8—Rushville
Oct. 15—At Peitzshans of Springfield (Conf.)
Oct. 29—Open
Nov. 5—At Havana
Nov. 11—I.S.D.

Sale of season tickets for the four home games has begun. Members of the grid team have the duty of selling them and they're available in several business houses.

List Candidates
More candidates are reporting now that school has begun. However, the list of players who will be available for the first game was released as follows:

And Marvin Ford, Harvey Fearson, Dick Flynn, Bob Omundsen, Fred Leonard, Roy Cooper, Norval Cannon, Earl Cole, Charles McGath, Russell Heaton and Ivan Heaton.

Most of the starters will have seen some first team experience, but the club still can truthfully be termed "green."

Gessner's War Dogs To Be At Lions' Festival

This troupe of intelligent Doberman Pinschers have been specifically trained for the U. S. Army and Mr. Gessner received permission to take them out for a few appearances before turning them over to the army for active duty. These canine soldiers have been trained for sentry duty and to assist wounded American soldiers. When on sentry duty their keen senses are at the highest pitch and they are of their human companions. If one of the detail is wounded, the dog stands guard over him or brings help. The Dobermans are trained to be docile with their masters and to be absolutely relentless when commanded to attack.

In addition to the exhibition in work the Dobermans will present an interesting and amusing stage routine. One of the troupe is a natural clown and will keep the audience in a hilarious mood with his antics.

Mr. Gessner has long been recognized as one of the foremost trainers of dogs in the United States and before the war specialized in training dogs in police work for the Midwestern Police Departments and numerous letters have been received from the various police heads extolling the work of his dogs.

His training kennel just outside of Chicago is a show place and visitors each week come to see him put the dogs through their paces. Many Chicagoans brought their pets (all breeds) to Mr. Gessner to be trained.

Gessner's war dogs will appear at the children's free matinee at 3 p. m. Thursday, Sept. 9, at the Lion's Fall Festival at the Morgan County Fair Grounds. The festival will be held Thursday and Friday, Sept. 9 and 10.

Spiders Are Pretty Dumb, So He Studies Chiggers

Washington, Sept. 7.—(P)—A spider set up for business in York Center, Illinois, a couple of weeks ago, and promptly made the headlines when it caught an eight-inch snake in its web.

Now two local spiders, apparently jealous of all the publicity the Illinois spider got, have snakes in their web. It beats all what some spiders will do to get their names in the papers.

Which brings us, nature lovers, around to today's question: "What on earth can a spider do with a snake once he gets him?"

The answer is simple: Nothing.

Retired Expert

It comes from Henry E. Ewing, who used to be a spider man for the Smithsonian Institution before he retired.

"Spiders," he explained, "are very dumb."

Ewing used to fool spiders regularly. "If you know how to do it," he said, "you can take a timothy straw and stick it into their webs. Twist it a little, and the spiders will come running, certain that they have an insect."

Many spiders have good eyes, too. I don't know why they don't look and see what they've caught. But they don't."

Rather Common, He Says

Ewing said, yes, he had seen the stories on spiders turned snake-trappers, but he hadn't bothered to read them. "That sort of thing happens right along."

Common, eh?

"It depends on what you mean by common," he said. "People are bitten by diamondback rattlers every year. Yet how many people do you know who have been bitten by diamondbacks?"

Not all spiders spin webs. The wolf spider—"very common," says Ewing—pounce on their victims.

Ewing said that now he has retired, he spends most of his time studying chiggers, of all things. He said he doesn't spend much time on spiders.

"It's awful, I know," he said, "but I'm beginning to forget their scientific names."

Ross Services Held Yesterday

Feed, Cattle Position The Opposite Of 1947

Conditions in the cattle feeding business are practically the opposite of those of a year ago, according to L. H. Simerl, agricultural economist at the University of Illinois.

Last year at this time feeder cattle were selling for considerably less money, about $5 a hundred. And all feeds were high.

In his farm outlook letter Simerl reports, "A year ago corn was very late and had suffered from drought. Corn production was cut nearly one-fourth from the previous year. That made high prices for corn and other feeds all season."

Corn Supplies The Answer

"Now a record-breaking corn crop has been forecast. The August estimate was 45 percent, or nearly one-half, more than was produced last year. Iowa farmers will have nearly twice as much corn as they had last fall."

Despite the government loan level at around $1.45 for this area, Simerl says corn and other feed prices will remain low "until new crop prospects became an important price-making factor next summer."

Big crops of soybeans, cotton and flax will make protein feeds much cheaper, he predicted.

"Total meat supplies will not be larger in 1948 than in 1947. Farmers will increase pork production, but the heavier marketing will not show up until the last quarter of 1949. Total beef production for the year will be limited by the decline in cattle numbers during the past three years," he noted.

Demand All-Time High

"Consumer demand is at an all-time high. More people are working at higher wages than ever before. They want beef and are willing to pay for it, but they don't like to pay $1 a pound."

Simerl feels that the future consumer demand depends largely on government action.

"The government will spend about 40 million dollars in the next 12 months. Public utilities and certain other industries will continue to make large outlays for new facilities and equipment. Consumers complain about high prices, but most of them have been able to pay these prices and have money left over."

He predicted on or more soft spots in the market for fat cattle during the next year. "A likely time is during the late winter."
